Murderous Assault of Which Lewis Hart is Victim.

CHARENCE MILLS ACCUSED OF CRIME

Preparations Being Perfected for Sesqui-Centennial.

GENERAL AND PERSONAL

No. 727 King street, Bell telephone No. 106,

ALEXANDRIA, Va., June 12, 1899. A murderous assault was committed about 9 o'clock last night on Lower Cameron street, a white man named Lewis Hart being the victim. In response to a telephone message at police headquarters, Lleut, Smith and Officer Sherwood hurried to the scene. They found Hart in a semiconscious condition, lying face downward n a large pool of blood. He was taken up, and the light revealed an ugly slash across his left cheek, extending to the nose. The blood had coagulated, which, in the opinion of the officers, indicated that Hart had been cut an hour or more before he was

The injured man was conveyed to the station house, and Dr. Howard dressed the wound. His condition is not considered very serious this morning.

Clarence Mills has been arrested, charged with the crime. The case will come up for trial in the police court tomorrow morning, or as soon thereafter as the wounded man can appear. This morning a danger-ous-looking knife was discovered near the scene of the cutting. Tenement Row Burned.

About 6:30 o'clock last evening fire was discovered in an unoccupied frame tenement house, No. 728 North Columbus street. The flames spread rapidly, and when the fire department arrived had gained considerable headway. For about two hours the firemen labored hard. Their energetic efforts saved the row from com-plete destruction, and prevented the flames from spreading to closely contiguous build-

The fire started under the stairway of No. 728, which was between three houses below and one above. Evidently it was either accidentally caused by boys or was of incendiary origin. The remaining four buildings were occupied by parties who owned them or were buying them through a building association. The loss to the buildings will probably amount to $1,500, partly covered by insurance. Apart from this, furniture was damaged to the extent of about $1,000, without insurance. Thomas Muller occupied and owned the south corner house, which he valued at $500. This was insured.

Edward Tesh lived in house No. 726. He was purchasing it through a building as-sociation for $350. There was no insurance on his furniture, much of which was de-

J. J. Bradley occupied the next house, which he was buying in like manner.

Mrs. J. A. Schwab owned the building where the fire started. The other house was occupied by Mr. H. W. Bayliss. Case Sent to Grand Jury.

In the police court this morning Landon Anthony and Robert James, both colored were arraigned before Mayor Simpson to answer the charge of breaking into and entering a railroad car on the Southern road and stealing various articles of clothing there from Detective C. D. Duke of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, and Officer E. E. Stratton of the Charlottesville police force, where the arrest was made, testified against the prisoners. Mayor Simpson reagainst the prisoners. Mayor Simpson referred the case to the grand jury.

Joseph Carrington, colored, and Martin Kessler were arraigned on a charge of instigating an assault on Henry Shirley. The evidence showed that Carrington had paid several colored youths to chase Shirley on the plea that the latter had attempted to steal a goose from Kessler. About fifty men joined in the chase, witnesses stated, and overtook the fugitive, who was beaten. Carrington was fined $10 and Kessler dis-Carrington was fined $10 and Kessler dis-

EXPRESSES ITS THANKS. Encampment No. 60, U. V. L., to Rev.

Dr. Stafford. Encampment No. 69, Union Veteran Legion, has adopted a resolution tendering thanks to Rev. Dr. D. J. Stafford for his participation in the memorial services recently held by the encampment at Carroll Institute ,Hall. The resolution, in part

"We unanimously tender Rev. D. J. Stafford, D. D., our most heartfelt thanks for his invaluable assistance in rendering our annual memorial services in honor of those of our departed comrades who have died during the last year, the most solemn and impressive commemoration ever held by us, and surpassing in mournful sadness, tender pathos and yet joyful patriotic dignity any similar occasion in the past history of this great city. Not only did he secure for us the use of Carroll Institute Hall and the vocal and instrumental aid of the choir of St. Patrick's Church, of which he is the eminent assistant paster, but by ble own. eminent assistant pastor, but by his own masterly address and matchless eloquence he bound to him by ties of lasting friendhip, affection and gratitude the hearts and

AFFAIRS IN GEORGETOWN.

Death of Mrs. Thomas—Sailor Injured by Accident.

Mrs. Virginia H. Thomas, a well-known and life-long resident of Georgetown, died quite suddenly last evening about 11 o'clock, at her residence, 3207 P street. Death was due to apoplexy, and the fatal stroke came without warning. Mrs. Thomas appeared to be in her usual health yesterday, though she complained of nervousness. She retired about 10:30 o'clock, and a few minutes afterward her youngest son was awakened by her calling for a glass of water. It was furnished her, but she could not drink. The other members of the family quickly assembled in the room and Dr. Shekell was sent for, but inside of ten minutes death resulted.

Mrs. Thomas was fifty-eight years of age and was a native of Georgetown. Her maiden name was Ellis, and May 2, 1858, she was married to Mr. Wm. E. Thomas, who still survives. She leaves a family of six children—three sons and three daughters, all of the latter and two of the sons being married. The funeral will be held being married. The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock from her late residence, and the interment will be at Oak Hill cemetery. The services will be conducted by Rev. Frank H. Barton, rector of St. John's Church, corner of Potomac and O streets.

James D. Coxson, a sailor on the United States dispatch boat Dolphin, fell from a car of the Capital Traction Company about 6:30 o'clock last evening at Potomac and 6:30 o'clock last evening at Potomac and M streets and was severely injured about the head. The hat of the sailor was blown from his head and in an attempt to recover it he feil from the car to the asphalt sur-face of the street. He was carried to the Georgetown University Hospital, where his wounds were dressed. Some of the residents of the county above

Georgetown are afraid of a spread of hy-drophobia among the dogs of the section. Friday a bull terrier dog, with tag 3537, acted strangely out in Maryland, a short distance from the District line, and was known to have bitten one dog. The bull terrier was shot and killed. No one in the vicinity knows the owner of the dog, and the police have been requested to make inquiry. Several other dogs that have acted strangely of late, have also been put to

INTEREST IN GOVERNORSHIP.

Democrats Casting About for a Suitable Candidate. special Correspondence of The Evening Star.

ROCKVILLE, Md., June 12, 1899. The democrats of this county are beginning to manifest considerable interest in the gubernatorial nomination of their party. There are but two names mentioned with any degree of warmth-Spencer C. Jones of this county and Edwin Warfield of Howard county. Each of these gentlemen have many warm and influential friends throughout the county. It is stated, however, that Mr. Jones has no gubernatorial aspirations and will not be a candidate. If this be true, it is claimed, the support of Montgomery county will go to Mr. Warrield. If, how-ever, Mr. Jones decides to become a candi-

The public schools of the county will close Thursday next, on which day they will have been running for nine full months. This is the first time in years that the schools of the county have been kept open to so late a date, and the county school oard is receiving congratulations upon the economical financial management which permitted the extension of the term.

The county commissioners were in session all of the past week passing accounts for the annual levy. The levy will be signed the latter part of the month, at which time the tax rate for the next year will be fixed. It is believed the rate will remain the same as it is at present excepting for Rackyilla. as it is at present, excepting for Rockville and Bethesda districts, which will be com-pelled to pay a slightly increased taxation because of the Rockville boulevard.

STORM VERY SEVERE.

Hall Stones Cause Great Damage in Montgomery County. Special Correspondence of The Evening Star

ROCKVILLE, Md., June 12, 1899.

Late reports indicate that the storm which passed over the northern section of this county last Friday afternoon was much more severe than was at first thought. Owing to the telephone connections being interrupted it has been impossible to get accurate reports until today. This morning it was learned here that the storm was accompanied by the heaviest downpour of hail ever known in this county, and that an immense amount of damage was done. The area covered by the hail was about a mile in width, and ex-tended over the entire northern portion of the county. The stones were very large. the county. The stones were very large, some of them being the size of hen eggs.

The growing wheat and corn crops were totally destroyed, and grass was badly beaten down and much damaged. Many window pares were smashed, and scores of trees were blown over. The damage done amounts to thousand of dollars. It is said the storm was even more severe than the tornado of September, 1896. Charged With Theft.

William James, a well-dressed colored man, employed as porter by Saks & Co. for duty in and about the Saks stores, was arrested this morning by Detectives Boyd and Helan and locked up on a charge of stealing a dress and waist. The defendant is held at he first precinct station for a hearing. Crap, Five Up and Poker.

NO SIGNS OF CLEARING.

The Conditions Favorable for Continuance of Showers. The weather bureau does not hold out encouragement for brighter weather before omorrow, or possibly the next day. No signs are visible of clearing weather tonight. The conditions are favorable for a continuance of showers during the night and maybe tomorrow. The cause of the wet weather today is the prevalence of east winds, and the cause of the east winds is the location of a "high" in New England. There is a "low" above the Dakotas, and if it moves east-wardly at a rapid rate it will bring warmer weather. But the low cannot move east-wardly until the high shaves off into the Atlantic and makes place for it. When that occurs there will be southerly winds in these parts, with a consequent increase of temperature and clearing skies. Music the Feature.

Dealer Without License. Robert Scott was today charged before

Judge Kimball with being an unlicensed huckster and with assaulting John Carrell. The evidence in the first case was that Scott is in the habit of purchasing vegetables from commission men and selling them at the Riggs Market under the representation that he grows the products himself. For this Scott was fined $25, with the al-ternative of thirty days in jail. The charge of assault was dismissed. Marine Band at Elks' Convention.

The Marine Band will leave this city next Saturday to attend the convention of the Grand Lodge of the B. P. O. Elks at St. Sergt. John C. The band is to be increased to seventy-two members, and Director Santelmann is putting the organization through a thorough course Both Go to Workhouse.

John and Kate Glasgow, husband and wife, were today sent to the workhouse for fifteen days each by Judge Kimball for using profane and indecent language. Both denied the charge. John said he was singing a hymn when he was arrested, and he supposed the officer did not know the differ-ence between the words of a hymn and those used in swearing.
